

Payroll & Provident Fund Services

We focus on payroll administration so you can focus on your business

In a world where economic and competitive pressures are continually challenging assumptions about what is core and what is peripheral to a business, outsourcing has become an increasingly popular choice for organisations ranging from sole traders to multinational corporations.

Handling payroll is one of the most critical processes in any business. It's about people and your people are your company's biggest asset, so it's important to get it right.

Our payroll and provident fund service team comprises of experts with extensive knowledge and technical expertise working together with our tax, legal and human resource services advising our clients on income tax and social insurance issues, payroll matters and other employment considerations.

We provide solutions that are able to meet your particular business needs, safeguard compliance and mitigate risks

At PwC, we make sure you have a complete service offering able to effectively address all payroll and provident fund related matters and add the value you are looking for your business.
